Individual Social Work Student Professional Liability FAQs

Why do students need professional liability insurance?

Malpractice risk starts during social work education. You're studying and working towards a great career in a field you love, but even field practice can put you at risk of being sued by someone dissatisfied with an outcome. You need professional liability coverage. We can provide you with experienced legal defense and coverage for settlements or damages, plus a helpline you can call if you have legal questions.

Even if you are already covered under a school malpractice policy, this may not be enough coverage in case you need to pay legal fees for a lawsuit. Individual student coverage is very important!

Who is eligible for coverage?

Any social work student participating in field placement activities in an accredited social work program.

What is the cost and how do I enroll?

Depending on the liability limit required and chosen at the time of the application, pricing can range from as low as $15 up to $25 per year.
